ComSci.....Press Release..... ComSci Moves Headquarters to Accommodate Growth

Strong demand for ComSci's IT cost transparency and chargeback solutions drives need for expansion

Iselin, NJ, August 19, 2009 – ComSci, LLC, a leading provider of Technology Financial Management (TFM) solutions for IT cost transparency and chargeback, relocated its corporate headquarters to 485B Route 1 South, Suite 100, in Iselin, New Jersey. ComSci continues to experience strong growth and the new, larger space provides a more open and flexible work environment to service its Fortune 1000 customers. The facility's larger data center, with increased communications bandwidth and greater processing power, is needed to accommodate the growing demand ComSci is experiencing for its IT cost transparency solutions.

"With IT organizations under pressure to reduce costs and optimize IT investments, the need for cost transparency has never been more important," said Robert Svec, president and CEO of ComSci. "Our new facility supports our company's strong growth and positions us to better serve the needs of our clients."

In general, companies that implement a cost transparency and chargeback process can save 4% to 5% of their total IT Budget. ComSci's solution provides detailed consumption information and metrics to the business users in order to obtain these savings. The business users, now aware of the costs of their consumption of IT services, are able to make better decisions about IT priorities and this enables them to eliminate services that are not adding value to the business.

The ComSci IT Cost Transparency and Chargeback solution enables enterprises to gain more visibility into the costs of IT products and services, optimize IT investments and better align IT with the overall strategy of the business. By utilizing ComSci's intuitive web-based reporting and interactive dashboards, the IT organization can provide business users with the details of their individual or business consumption, so enterprise customers everywhere can minimize IT costs and maximize IT business value.

ComSci's main business phone number remains 732-632-8000.
