ComSci Goes Global with IT Cost Transparency with New Multi-Currency Support

Edison, NJ, September 23, 2008 – ComSci, LLC, a leading provider of Technology Financial Management (TFM) solutions for IT cost transparency and chargeback, today announced numerous enhancements to its TFM web-based reporting tool, including support for multiple currencies and more powerful grouping, sorting, and detailing capabilities. Through BillBrowser™, IT organizations can provide their business managers with visibility into their consumption of IT services so they can control, manage and be accountable for their IT expenses for anywhere in the world from anywhere in the world.

“Our clients have operations that touch every part of the globe, generating a wide array and complexity of technology costs,” said Michael Siniscalchi, Vice President, Business Development of ComSci. “Clients rely on ComSci to provide them with accurate chargeback of their IT expenses, no matter what country or currency the expenses originate in.”

ComSci’s BillBrowser™ can support all major international currencies with the flexibility for clients to add other currencies as needed.

In addition to multi-currency support, other enhancements to BillBrowser™ include more robust and detailed ad-hoc searches, off-line call detail searching, and the ability to group charges by service type, product, individual employee, and business line.

ComSci's BillBrowser™ is an advanced and user-friendly web-based module for IT cost transparency reporting. BillBrowser™ provides both IT and business managers insight into IT expenses and consumption data, serving as an organization's complete "billing aggregator" for all IT expenses and allowing senior managers and individual users to better manage, control and reduce their overall IT expenses. BillBrowser™ provides secure access, via the Internet, to data from ComSci's platform of IT cost transparency and chargeback solutions.

“All these new features result from specific requests and suggestions by our clients, who take a strong interest in the continued growth and development of ComSci,” commented Siniscalchi. “We take special pride in the close working relationship we have with our clients.”
